

Our 10-year Strategy for Digital Preservation

Affecting change across four areas

The digital material in scope:

1. Research Outputs
2. Research Data
3. University Records
4. Cultural Collections

Digital preservation is not just about a 'system'. It's about the people, the culture, and the support networks that provide the expertise to build the robust infrastructure required to safeguard digital assets into the future to ensure reuse and reproducibility.

2015
Establishment

2017

Implementation

There are three phases to the University of Melbourne ten-year digital preservation strategy.

Embedding

2025